Vice Chancellor's Forward

We have the pleasure to welcome you to A'Sharqiyah University. The decision to approve the establishment of the university was issued in 2009 as the first private university in the governorates of North and South Al Sharqiyah, reinforced by the blessing and generous royal support of His Majesty Sultan Qaboos bin Said, may All rest his soul in eternal peace.

The university received the first batch of its students in the academic year 2010/2011, with the aim of supporting the government's efforts in providing higher education opportunities for the Omani citizens in the governorates of North and South Sharqiyah. Currently, the university comprises five colleges: Business Administration, Engineering, Applied and Health Sciences, Arts and Humanities, and Law.

With an emphasis on quality and excellence in teaching and research, A' Sharqiyah University seeks to be a leading institution of higher education in the Sultanate of Oman. The increasing and accelerating needs of the Sultanate require competent graduates who are capable of critical thinking and who can face the challenges of the future. We seek to upgrade knowledge and provide services to the society based on the highest international standards through the provision of relevant programs and the use up-to-date technologies. At the same time, the university provides the best teachers, professors and administrative staff to ensure high-quality education and provide services to university students.

As part of future expansion plan, the university will continue reviewing its existing programs and adding new ones in line with its strategic plan. Furthermore, a new campus has been built for the purpose of providing more facilities for the university's students, faculty and staff. Reaching the university campus from other North and South Sharqiyah regions has become easier with the continuous construction and expansion of roads.

On behalf of all employees and faculty members of A' Sharqiyah University, we invite you to join our university, and welcome you once again to your university, wishing you a successful academic experience.

8. Academic Advising:

Each student is assigned an academic advisor upon joining the college in which he was admitted. This advisor is responsible for:

- Guiding the student during his/her university studies and giving him/her advice on matters related to his/her academic life.
- Following up the student's selection of courses he/she registers in each semester and approving them.
- Providing various advice and support to the student throughout his/her study and helping him/her overcome problems and difficulties he/she may face.

9. Academic Probation:

- A student is placed under academic probation if his/her GPA in any semester is less than 2.0.
- The student under academic probation must raise his GPA to 2.0 or more during three semesters. The semester in which the student was placed under academic probation is not considered among the three semesters granted to the student. This also includes the summer semester.
- The student under academic probation is advised to take the appropriate measures regarding his/her academic status, by consulting his academic supervisor before registering for the next semester. The supervisor takes notes for any corrective measures. These may include any of the following:

- Reducing study load.
- Considering the possibility of retaking the modules in which the student previously failed to raise his/her GPA.
- Postponing a course to a later semester.
- Recommending referring the student to other university departments (Student Affairs Department, Student Counseling Center, health clinic) in order to help him/her solve his personal or health problems, if there any.

-The maximum academic load for a student under academic probation is 12 credit hours for the first and second semester and 6 hours for the summer semester.

-Summer semester is not considered one of the three semesters allocated for removing the academic probation.

-When a student is placed under academic probation, he/she is informed by the Admission and Registration department directly or through a text message or e-mail that he/she must come the department to sign the ac-academic probation letter and urged to raise his/her GPA to 2.0 during the following semester. The student's guardian is also informed.

-In case the student has failed to clear out of this academic probation within the allowed period, he/she will be expelled from the major. However, he/she may be accepted into another major after two years, and all the courses which he/she has passed, and which fall within his new study plan will be accredited to him/her and he/she will be given an exempted grade (TC). These courses will be included within the calculation of his GPA. If the student wants to rejoin study in a new specialization immediately after being expelled, all modules that fall within his new study plan will be credited to him/her in his/her GPA.

-If a bachelor student is dismissed from the program in which he/she is studying, he/she is entitled to shift to the diploma program provided that he/she has successfully completed 45 credit hours or more, and his/her GPA is 1.7 or above.

-A student is not placed under academic probation during the Foundation Program period.

-If a student who is under the sponsorship of the Ministry of Higher Education was not able to clear out of the academic probation within three semesters, his/her scholarship will be suspended. Alternatively, he/she may complete his/her studies at his/her own expense depending on his/her academic status.

10. General instructions:

10.1 Registration:

-An academic year consists of two compulsory semesters which are fall and spring semesters and an optional semester which is the summer semester. In the fall and spring semesters, a student is required to attend classes regularly, but he/she can postpone a semester if there is a valid excuse. As for the summer semester, it is an optional semester and hence a student has the right to register for it or not.

-A study semester in each college consists of 17 weeks, including the examination period. Summer semester also consists of 17 weeks including the examination period. The Foundation Program semester consists of 13 weeks, including the examination period.

-The registration period takes one week before the beginning of each semester. A student should communicate with his/her academic advisor to get the modules in which he/she has registered approved. However, it is highly recommended that the student follows his/her study plan for each major because it shows the modules that are supposed to be studied in each semester starting from the student's admission to the university until his/her graduation.

-The drop, add, and late registration period begins in the first week of each regular semester. As for the summer semester, it takes place during the first three days of the semester.

10.2 Postponement of study:

-The student may postpone his/her studies for one semester and renewable for another semester within the first 4 weeks from the beginning of the semester or as determined by the dispatching body. -The student may postpone during the semester (after the end of the add and drop period) after obtaining an approval from the dean of the respective college and meeting the director of Admission and Registration to explain and discuss the reasons for postponement. The student may be asked to submit documents that support his/her postponement request such as medical reports.

-It is permissible to extend the postponement period to more than two semesters in exceptional circumstances after obtaining the approval of the sponsoring body in case the student has a scholarship.

-If the postponement occurs after the end of the Add and Drop period, a deferred grade (PST) is awarded for the modules in which the student was registered in that semester.

-A student is not allowed to postpone the first semester except in special circumstances.

-The student is considered to have withdrawn from the university if he/she has not started his/her studies after the end of the postponement period.

-A student who withdraws voluntarily or due to his/her absence is considered for re-admission. He/she can resume studies at the beginning of the following semester after completing the required normal registration procedures. As for students who withdraw due to academic dismissal, regulations of students under academic probation apply to them.
